PROPOSED CITATION

STATINTL

for Distinguished Federal Civilian Service for his extraordinary achievements in the field of national security. His clear understanding of national intelligence requirements, single minded devotion to the solution of key problems, and his ability to lead and impire others, to evaluate and to judge matters of great technical complexity and to move forward rapidly and confidently in unexplored fields have resulted in a contribution to national security of great and unique importance.